EZ-Seal Adapter System for preventing Powder Migration

P/W has just released their EZ-Seal system for the Spolar reloaders. Its function is to stop the powder migration that has been happening with the modern ultra-fine powders. This spring loaded device is designed to force the o-ring to snugly set and move on the powder hopper. It raises the height of the powder tube approximately 1½" as shown on the left. A similarly designed system is now a standard offering on the P/W reloaders.
